Sadie Foley died suddenly from an attack of heart disease, Wednesday evening. She was twenty-five years of age and employed at the Clark thread mill. While on her way to work, with a girl companion, early Monday morning, she was taken suddenly ill when in Wilcox park. She was noticed by James Nelson of Waterbury and Letter Carrier Thomas Clancy and both went to her assistance. They summoned a cab and Miss Foley was taken to the home of Mrs. Edward Dollery in Tower street, where she boarded, and a physician was called.

Miss Foley's home was in Pawtucket, and her mother was notified of the young woman's serious illness. When Mrs. Foley arrived her daughter was dead. The body was taken to Pawtucket.

The annual outing and clambake of the Westerly Medical society was held Thursday at Brightman's pond and was exclusive to members and invited rivals of Lydia Pinkham, from Norwich and New London. Occasional showers interfered somewhat with the field sports, but this was counterbalanced by the additional indoor games, during the progress of same, such words as "Fil see you," "Fil stay," "Fil go you five better," and "Fil take two," seemed to be important/factors.

In gastronomics the doctors were for the time unlike the preachers, for they did not practice what they preached, but indulged to excess, and then applied the remedy, which was less expensive to the antan when administered to the layman.

All the doctors of the town were there, but there was a detail that attended in relays, so that the town would not be unprotected in emergency cases.

William H. Coates, who has been partially paralyzed for two years, and who required the almost constant presence of an attendant, died Thursday morning at his home in North Stonington He formerly resided in Saginaw, Mich., and was for years a traveling salesman in the west. He is survived by two daughters, Minnie and Helen of North Stonington.

Cheney Brothers of South Manchester has just made known the plans for their new dressing mill, which they have had under consideration for some time. The new mill is to have a frontage on Pine street of 100 feet and will extend 425 feet on Cooper Hill street. It is to be two stories high in some parts three stories. When completed, which will not be for about a year, it will be occupied by new machinery and the machinery which is now located in their dressing department, which has been too small for some time past, will be occupied by the spinning department. This will make the spun silk mill that they are building, when completed, together with the spun silk mill that they are building, when completed, together with the spun silk mill in the United States.

Meriden Plumbers Want Haif Holiday.

The members of the local union of journeymen plumbers are anxiously awaiting an miswer from the Meriden master plumbers in regard to a petition drawn up six weeks ago asking for Saturday afternoons off with pay. The petition was presented to the master plumbers, but as yet the employes have received no answer. The request stated that it was the desire of the journeymen that the new working go into effect the first Saturday in August, which will be this Saturday.

It is said that serious complications will arise unless the request is granted, it being freely rumored that the journeymen will go out on strike if they are not given their half holiday.

Several years ago the journeymen and the masters had quite a tilt over a demand made by the former for a raise in wages. Serious trouble was averted by the surrender of the employers.—

FARM FIELD MEETING. New Haven Will Open New Labor-

A farm field meeting will be held at the Connecticut agricultural experiment station. New Haven, Wednesday, August 16. The meeting will open at 11 o'clock with addresses by Dr. W. H. Jordan director of the New York station, and others. The occasion will also be an informal dedication of the new fireproof laboratory, open then for the first time. There will be a lunch on the basket picnic plan. The station will provide tables, china, tea and coffee. The lunch will take place at 12.20.

About 2 o'clock cars will be taken to the experiment field to see the alfalfa, clover, corn, potatoes, soy beans, cow peas, melons tobacco and garden crops. Points under experiment will be explained. Returning from the field, which is on the Waterbury and New Haven trolley line, cars run every twenty-six minutes in either direction, requiring about forty-five minutes to reach the railroad station.
